

THE MAGI: A REMINDER THAT JESUS CAME FOR ALL NATIONS

Matthew 2:1-12

Awareness

Before listening, reflect:

- What do you know or remember about the Magi?
- Why do you think Matthew includes the Magi in his account of the Christmas story?

Many nativity scenes include the Magi, even though they never actually appeared at the manger. And yet, their presence helps illustrate one of the Gospel of Matthew's most important theological points: Jesus, our Savior, was born for all. Reflecting on the story of the Magi and understanding the profound meaning of their presence is a wonderful way to begin preparing our hearts to celebrate the coming of our Messiah.

Reflection

After listening, consider:

- Think about what you already knew about the Magi before you listened to this episode. What was biblical? What was tradition? What new or interesting thing (or things) did you learn about the Magi in segment 1? Were you surprised by anything you heard?
- Do you think the church today understands Matthew's message that Jesus Christ came to be the Savior for all people? Does your church make room for all people in God's kingdom? Why or why not?
- In segment 3, host Scott Hoezee asks, "Who are the Magi today? Who are the people who when we see God bringing them into the church, we sort of say: Ooh, well, now, you know, they are pretty different from us. Do they really belong here? Who are today's Magi? Who is God working in that we didn't expect?" How would you answer Scott's questions?
- How might Matthew's reminder that Jesus came for all nations help us prepare our hearts to celebrate Christ's birth this year?

Conclusion

Intentionally spend a few minutes reflecting on the Magi and Matthew's intentional inclusion of their story in his Gospel. Then consider and pray over these questions:

- How can our churches be more like the nativity scenes we see at Christmas—shepherds, angels, and Magi all mixed together... "a whole bunch of different people under one roof"?
- How or with whom is the Holy Spirit prompting you to show the "welcome of grace" Scott talks about in segment 3?
