Awareness

Before listening, reflect:

- Do you ever have questions about the Christian faith or how to live a life of faith? What do you do with those questions?
- What are your trusted resources for answers to spiritual questions or who are your trusted confidants or spiritual advisors when you have questions?

When we recently asked you and your fellow Groundwork listeners which issues and questions were most pressing for your faith, questions surrounding spiritual life were a recurring theme in your answers. So let's examine Scripture together to find answers and examples to help us better think about how we can daily cultivate our personal faith, live faithfully in a divided world, and share our faith in a Christ-like manner even when we encounter direct skepticism.

Reflection

After listening, consider:

- Review the lists of spiritual disciplines in the Groundwork series "Spiritual Disciplines" (prayer, fasting, simplicity, solitude, silence, service, giving, study, and memorization) and "Spiritual Disciplines, Part 2: Healthy Habits for Life" (commitment, discipleship, sabbath rest, worship, confession, prayer, reconciliation, and fellowship). Which spiritual disciplines do you regularly engage in your faith life? How did these become part of your regular practice? Have you tried any other spiritual disciplines? Where would you like to see growth in your spiritual life? Are there any spiritual disciplines you haven't tried yet that might help you develop and grow in that area?
- Consider the list of daily activities host Darrell Delaney mentions as he discusses Brother Lawrence's philosophy of practicing the presence of God in segment 1. Make a list of the things happening in your day and think about how you can practice the presence of God in these moments. What is one thing you could try for a while to stretch or strengthen your devotional life by noticing the presence of God in your daily moments?

- What divisions in our church, society, or world do you lament? Write your own prayer of lament using a Psalm as a model for your prayer (some examples of Psalms of lament are Psalm 13, Psalm 22, Psalm 42, or Psalm 74. For more information on these Psalms, read the blog “Psalms of Lament: Individual and Communal” by Ken Boa). Then reread Galatians 5:13-26. Which one of the Fruits of the Spirit could you intentionally cultivate in your life to help bring light to these dark places?
- Have you ever encountered the opinion that God is arrogant for telling us to serve and praise him? Darrell and Scott discussed many biblical reasons we can be assured that God is in fact not arrogant, but deserving of praise and worship. Which Bible passage or illustration resonated with you or broadened your understanding the most?

Conclusion

Which of the three segments' discussions do you feel most acutely right now: segment 1—personal spiritual life and practice, segment 2—feeling burdened by the divisiveness in our world, or segment 3—responding to attacks on God while sharing your faith? How did this episode challenge or encourage you? What key points did you take away from Scott and Darrell's discussions in this episode?
